

The emancipation of workers is the task of the workers themselves

Liberating work

Join us! Help build a world where

- everyone has access to decent work
- wealth is shared fairly
- people collectively take control of what they produce, and on what terms
- the worker co-op system is well known, and an option for more people workers.coop is the network for worker co-ops and supporters. We provide:

- worker co-op centred training and opportunities
- peer learning and industry member networks
- resources for your co-op, your members and customers
- a space to organise and grow the movement for worker-community control, when it's needed more than ever

Find out how to be part of the movement and get involved as a worker co-op, individual member or supporter at workers.coop
